The difficulty grew out of their mutual love for a woman who cared nothing for either of them. Every preparation was made and the hostile parties arrived at their destination at midnight. At dawn of day they proceeded to lars to the State; for he acknowledges the a secluded spot on the outskirts of the town overlooking the Potomac, where everything was speedily got ready, and the principals took their positions at twenty paces from each other. The word "fire" was given, both pistols were discharged at once, and Varnum fell, wounded (and it is feared mortally) in the femoral artery. Colonel McNamara escaped unhurt, the ball having only grazed his shoulder The surgeon in attendance examined Mr. Varnum's wound, and pronounced it mortal. Colonel McNamara and his friends hurried from the ground and drove back to Washington in a private conveyance. Mr. Varnum's condition was such as to preclude the possibility of his immediate departure. He was carried by his friends to a neighboring house in a fainting condition. The woman who is the cause of the trouble has not herself the slightest concern about the fate of her to fight a duel, she remarked to a friend with in difference that "she did not care if they shot each other dead." The whole affair has been kept a profound secret, owing to the possibility of Mr

LIGHT READING FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

A Hint to Advertisers.

THE CHARLESTON NEWS will be issued on next Saturday morning, December 25th, in the form of a large quarto sheet of eight pages, or double its present size, made up especially for Christmas, of a choice and readable variety of STORIES, SKETCHES AND POEMS, In addition to the usual miscellany of editorial matter, telegrams, correspondence and local and general intelligence.

The Christmas News will be sent to the subscribers to our Tri-Weekly as well as our Daily issue; and as a very large extra edition will be printed, an excellent opportu nity will be afforded our advertising friends of bringing their announcements, without in creased charge, before a larger number of readers probably than is addressed by any other single newspaper in the South.

Newsmen will please send in their or ders as soon as possible.

The State Debt.

The following table shows the amount o the State debt at this time, with the date of issue, the rate of interest, and the time when

According to the annual report issued by Comptroller-General Neagle last year, the public debt on October 1, 1868, was $5,407,-306 27, against a debt of $6,988,434 23 at this time, showing an increase in the total debt amounting to $1,581,127 96. This increase consists of: Northern capitalists and farmers. Between Alex- Funded bills of Bank of State$1,246,400 00

> Total.....$1,581,127 96 Of the circumstances attending the funding of the bills of the Bank of the State in State bonds, every one is cognizant. That item of increase may be allowed to pass. The $300,000 is claimed to be a payment made in liquidation of that amount of floating debt created under authority given by the State Legislature of 1865. The third item of increase was for funding the overdue interest on the State debt.

This is very well as far as it goes. " But remain there and seek political advancement. what has been the increase of the State debt not included in the foregoing table? Senator Leslie said in the Senate, not long ago that $3,000,000 of South Carolina bonds were held as collaterals by persons in New York, who had advanced money to the State, and Comptroller-General Neagle says that $2,700,000 of State bonds "have been "signed up, and placed in the hands of the "financial agent and remain unsold." Where do these bonds appear in the statement of the total debt? We presume that these bonds cannot by any legerdemain be set down as the "bonds for funding the bills "of the Bank of the State," or as "the issue "of 1868," or as the "funded past due in-"terest." All that we know about them is that they are in New York to the amount of $2,700,000 or $3,000,000, and under the con-

Kimpton and the State.

The report of H. H. Kimpton, Financial Agent of the State of South Carolina, is particularly adapted to the wants of railroads, published with the report of the Comptroller-General, an official copy of which reached us yesterday. A little time and attention are necessary to a lucid explanation of what is wellnigh unintelligible; but the most sulient points may be noticed at once.

During the nine months ending in October last, Mr. Kimpton paid over to the State in cash $746,213 33, and paid coupons on Besides these amounts, Mr. Kimpton charges the State $64,996 71 as cash "paid "expenses for preparation of State bonds, ex-"press charges, stamps, interest," &c. The total amount charged the State is, therefore, $1,007,924 54.

On the other side of the account appears ceeds of the sale of 300,000 State bonds at 70-making a total charge against the Colonel McNamara and a Mr. Varnum, the first a | Financial Agent of $492,500, On the face $515,424 54.

It appears, however, that Mr. Kimpton did not actually advance half a million dolreceipt of the following securities :

Of this amount $300,000 are reported as sold-so that Mr. Kimpton has still in hand about two and a half million dollars as security for the half million dollars which the State appears to owe him. The Comptroller-General says the amount is $2,700,000, and Senator Leslie says it is $3,000,900; but $200 000 or $500 000 is a small matter between those financial leviathans, Kimpton

CAIN poked fun at Mr. Corbin in the Senate on Tuesday in a very provoking way. After suggesting that Mr. Corbin had "ten "or twenty thousand reasons" why the phosphate bill should pass, he said that all the senators knew Mr. Corbin to be "an honest "and conscientious man," who was "cool "and clear-headed." and had the advantage of the rest of the Senate in "superiority of "mind."
